Briefs...

Nine candidates for three city council seats, two city treasurer candidates and the unopposed city clerk candidate will speak on Tuesday night, 7:30 o'clock, Sunset School Auditorium on the Candidates Forum arranged by the Carmel Business Association. Ted Fehring, chairman of the Carmel Unified School District board of trustees, will be moderator.

Candidates are: council, Tom May (incumbent), Michael Franke, Patricia Hall, Corum Jackson, Hartland Law, Frank Putnam, Robert D. Strum, Francis Whitaker, Eben Whittlesey; treasurer, Sam Coleman (incumbent), Speirs Ruskell; city clerk, Larry Rose (incumbent).

On our request, each has furnished us with a written campaign statement which we have published on pages 6 and 7 of this issue of the Pine Cone. These statements may suggest questions to ask the candidates at Tuesday night's forum.

Owners of property in and adjacent to the business district should receive notices in the mail tomorrow informing them that rezoning of the business district will be given a planning commission public hearing on April 4, 7:30 o'clock, at City Hall.

The notices are copies of the planning commission legal notice published recently in the Pine Cone. They are being mailed to owners of 1,000 lots in 65 blocks irregularly enclosed by Second and Ninth Avenues, north and south, Carmelo and Santa Rita Streets, east and west. This area is the zone of interest affected by proposed new central district zoning, and includes all property in blocks within 300 feet of business district boundaries, as well as business district property. Legally, property owners in this area must be informed of any business district rezoning so that they may appear, if they wish, at the April 4 public hearing.

If the notices are not mailed tonight, the April 4 public hearing will be discontinued. The planning commission will set a new public hearing date and publish another notice. The county is attaching address labels to notices prepared in the city clerk's office. If the county cannot complete the labeling by tonight, a new planning commission hearing will be set. The commission will still hold a public hearing on the central district plan on April 4, even if they cannot consider rezoning on that day.

The planning commission established the zone of interest at a special meeting on Tuesday afternoon. They also approved preparation of a new detailed map of the central business district for the hearings on the plan and rezoning. It will be prepared by Design Associates.

The court fight over the Fenton Gas Pumps is temporarily a stand-off. Judge Anthony Brazil ruled this week that the citizens who are fighting the planning commission's and city council's approval of the pumps haven't "exhausted admin-

Clustered about a steamer trunk, above, are four members of the cast of Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, Carmel High School Senior Play, which opens in Sunset School Auditorium tomorrow evening at 8:15 o'clock and will be repeated on Saturday at the same hour.

Clutching her hatbox and gazing wide-eyed at Europe is Ciji Ware. Just as happy about their first trip abroad is Mary Weisiger, rear. The two girls play the parts of Emily Kimbrough and Cornelia Otis Skinner, author of the comedy.

Not so eager about it all and a trifle weary are bespectacled Boz Williams and his travelling companion, Toby Edson, in the roles of Harvard Medical School students who meet the 19-year-old girls on the ship.

Col. De Camp's Speech

Editor's Note—We have had many requests to publish Col. De Camp's comments at the February 29 city council hearing. We did not have space to print them in their entirety in the issue immediately following the hearing, and we did not wish to quote from them in part. We are glad to publish them now.

At an Adjourned Meeting of the Carmel City Council in Chambers, on February 29, 1960, convened to review and pass upon a recommendation of the City Planning Commission previously submitted on February 2 and embracing an approval of the installation of four gas pumps in the southern end of the Fenton Block between Mission and Junipero and Ocean and 7th Avenues within the business district, where by Zoning Ordinance, Service Stations and accessories are prohibited, Col. De Camp said:

Mr. Mayor, and the Carmel City Council, late as is the hour of this meeting, later perhaps is my own span of life in which as it draws to a close, the verities of life become clearer as they are seen through the perspective of time. I would therefore, if I might, talk with you a few minutes on the subject of REVERENCE. But first, may I preface my remarks with a reference to PROGRESS, of which so much has been heard in these Chambers recently?

To some, progress means change. Change, we will grant, is the order of the universe, inevitable and certain. BUT, by Change, we may indeed move from the sublime to the cheap, the tawdry, the flashy, the transitory. If, however, we qualify Progress as advancement, we move toward the enduring, the good, the true, the beautiful. This brings us to the quality, REVER-

ENCE. At my age, I am wholly certain that reverence is a necessary concomitant of advancement; for ONLY if we value and build on what has been previously accomplished, can improvement be had. This is what the Apostle Paul meant in his Letter to the Thesalonians when he said: "Prove all things, hold fast to that which is good."

Reverence is a spiritual factor of the life of man that seems to find some expression somewhere in every individual, however tenuous. Some have more, some less.

It may occur in some as an awe or worshipful attitude toward the mountain, the forest, the ocean, the sky, the storm. The soul is stirred, yet no moral element may be involved. Some men, men of moral character, reverence the record and works of those who built structures of understanding, of ways of life, of standards of truth and beauty, traditions of honour, (Continued on Page Three)

JC Election To Be Held June 7 Or 14

While admitting they are in some ways "buying a pig in a poke," Carmel school trustees last night voted unanimously to ask for annexation to the new Monterey Peninsula Junior College district.

At the same time they petitioned county supervisors to put the annexation issue on the ballot for the June 7 state primary election. They passed a second resolution asking for an election on June 14

if the supervisors support the County Clerk in his objections to district elections consolidated with one primary or general.

Trustees had said earlier that they would not take these steps until they had been given an estimate of cost allocation and assurance of two representatives on the junior college district board. According to regulations of the Education Code, however, it proved to be legally impossible for the Monterey Union High School district and Junior College boards (whose membership is identical at the moment) to satisfy either of these demands until both Carmel and Pacific Grove have successfully completed annexation elections.

"Our demands have not been met to the degree we desired," trustee Dr. Grant Fletcher told members of a sizable audience last night, "but the board has exhausted all other legal avenues. Any further delay will not help to clarify the situation. For the voters, it will amount to an election to join a college district with no school, no campus, and no definite tax rate."

"This is a problem that has plagued us and our citizens for a long time," trustee Dr. Richard Snyder said. "It is a very complex issue, not merely a matter of dollars versus education. I believe that in the long run our purposes would be best served by a county-wide college district. And this is buying a pig in a poke, to some extent. But it would be sad for future community relations if this issue did not pass. We cannot and (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Forest Department Denies Intent To Open Ridge Road

A rumor that the ridge road from south of Cone Peak to Partington Ridge is to be opened by the U. S. Forestry Service to vehicular traffic was denied today by Fire Patrol Officer Jack Curran, second in command at the district office in King City.

"We do not intend to open the road in the foreseeable future," he told the Pine Cone in answer to a phone call this noon.

The forest service has been making "tractor lines" in the area, which probably is the basis of the rumor, Curran said. The department is "pioneering the ridge top, measuring and marking, for fire lines. It will grow up again in four or five years, but we'll have a record," he said.

He added that there has been "talk" for several years in the Fish and Game Department to open the road to sportsmen. "But no money has shown up."

Five years ago local conservationists successfully fought a proposal for the county to open the road.

JV Baseball Depends On George Says Bill Wakefield

Baseball fans are muttering with discontent this week. Junior Varsity practice has not started yet at Carmel High School and there is doubt among interested adults that it will start at all.

After five persons informed us: "They're going to drop JV baseball at the high school. What's the big idea?" We phoned Recreation Director William Wakefield and asked what indeed is the big idea?

Wakefield thinks there will be JV baseball and practice will start later, "after George gets his varsity team broken in and can get along with two hours' practice," he said. "It depends on George."

"We've got the uniforms; we've got the coach, Dan Yurkovich; we're all ready to go, but we don't have the field for practice."

Wakefield said that the trouble is George Mosolf, varsity baseball coach, has a new, raw team and says he needs to work them later than 5:00 o'clock.

"When we know the JVs can have the field at 5:00, practice will (Continued from Page Four)

Stewart And Lane, Latest Candidates For Co. Committee

Residents of the Carmel area who have filed nomination papers in Salinas for the Monterey County Central Democratic Committee are Mrs. Helen Arnold and Mrs. Florence Viall. Today Charles Stewart will file.

Nomination papers have been taken out for Carmel Martin, Jr., William K. Stewart, Saul Weingarten and Gabriel Burnette, also Patricia Lane. The latter stated this morning she is undecided as to whether she will file in the next two days before filing closes, because of recent illness. Miss Lane is hesitant about undertaking central committee duties.

CARMEL TRACK SQUAD AT KING CITY RELAYS

Coach Hadley Hicks takes his Carmel varsity track team to King City Saturday morning in quest of some of the gold dished out in the popular King City Relays. High caliber competition faces the Red & Gray thinclads in the Relays with teams coming from as far north as the Bay Area and from as far south as Santa Barbara. Host King City holds one of the best hands in the meet with exceptional performers in the weights, hurdles, and distance events. The Mustangs will receive stern competition from Monterey, Salinas, Atascadero, and Palo Alto.

Carmel's best chance to pick up some points appears to lie in the hurdles where Al Dahlstrand has shown so much improvement; in the distances where Buddy Steffen, Gerhard Kalmus, and Joey Foster have been lowering their times with each race. Russ Wise, senior high-jumper, could do the job in this meet if he can reach the same form he had in 1959.

In last week's track competition, the Padres took on Monterey High at the Monterey Peninsula College track and were joined by the Toreador varsity, 93 to 36, and by the Toreobabes, 112½ to 2½. Monterey is considered the track power in the A-division of the CCAL this year and has too much depth for the smaller schools. Carmel salvaged two first places in the meet with Monterey as Alan Dahlstrand nosed out Monterey's James in the high hurdles and Joe Foster ran a 2:10 half-mile to win the two-lap event.

PADRE NINE UPSETS PACIFIC GROVE IN LEAGUE PLAY

An underdog Carmel High baseball squad came from far behind to score seven runs in a big sixth inning to whip the favored Pacific Grove Breakers, 11 to 8, Tuesday afternoon at the Padre diamond. The Breakers were enjoying an 8-4 lead going into the sixth heat and apparently had wrapped up the tilt when they scored five times in the fifth inning. However, the hard-trying Carmel nine put together four walks, seven hits, and took advantage of two Breaker errors to shove across enough markers to pick up the league victory.

Jim Brown, sophomore hurler, picked up the win for the Padres as he came on in relief in the fifth inning and blanked the visiting Breakers the rest of the way. The lanky righthander showed excellent control and a good fast ball in the three innings he worked and had the PG hitters at his mercy. Phil O'Shea started on the mound for the Padres but weakened in the fourth inning and was replaced by big Chris Wilkin. Wilkin had difficulty finding the strike zone and was relieved by Brown after giving up three runs. Pacific Grove got only three hits off the three Padre hurlers but made good use of eight walks and four Carmel errors to score 8 runs.

Carmel greeted pitchers Fuller and Stewart for 11 hits while picking up the same number of runs. Big men in the Padre attack were Dave Fuller and Frank Bucher. Fuller stroked a solid 3-for-five, scored 4 runs, and drove in 2 runs with a well-stroked double. Bucher hit 3-for-4, scored twice, and drove in 3 runs. Top fielding performances were turned in by Mike Draper, Bud Cunningham, and Carlos Montenegro.

Next action for the Padre nine is slated for Friday afternoon when Hollister High provides the opposition at the Haybaler diamond. The Padres are 1-2 in league action so far and need a win over the Haybalers to keep pace with league-leading Gilroy.

OLYMPIC CLUB

WINS RUGBY TOURNAMENT
 The lightly-regarded San Francisco Olympic Club came through with a sterling performance against the defending champion Miraloma Club of Vancouver in the final game of the Monterey Peninsula Rugby Tournament and topped the Canucks, 6 to 3, to wrap up the 1960 title. It took an overtime period to decide the hard-played final game with Al Kirkland, former Stanford grid star, kicking the three-pointer which assured the win for the Olympics.

UCLA took the consolation title by clipping the Eagle Rock Athletic Club in the semi-finals and blanking the Peninsula Ramblers, 16 to 0, in the consolation finals. Fifteen teams took part in the rugged tourney with the action taking place at Carmel's Bardarson Field, Robert Louis Stevenson, and the Outrigger Restaurant. Besides UCLA, Miraloma, and the Olympic Club, other competing teams were Stanford, Dartmouth, Olympic Club Reserves, Pomona, Peninsula Rambler JV, Athens Club, Santa Ana, Western Washington College of Education, Inglewood, Eagle Rock Athletic Club, and St. Mary's.

CIRCLING THE BASES

Monterey Peninsula College lost its baseball coach when Pete Peletta signed on as head basketball coach at the University of San Francisco. The popular MPC cage mentor was a surprise selection for the demanding USF job, but his outstanding record while at MPC and his strong recommendation from Pete Newell and Phil Woolpert won the job for the fiery court technician. Tor Spindler, line coach for the Lobo football squad, will take over the baseball squad when Peletta leaves for USF on April 2nd. Tor sat in with Coach Peletta as the Lobo baseball team split a double-header with the Foothill Owls last Saturday afternoon. This was the first league win for the Lobo pastimers this season and it was a going-away present for Coach Pete.

Second Little League tryout session is slated for this Saturday morning from 9:00 to 12:00 noon at the High School diamond. Over 80 boys have attended the one previous tryout camps and Little League directors are enthusiastic about the caliber of baseball shown during the workouts. In order to provide more playing opportunity, an additional farm team has been added to the minor league circuit. This will give 15 more boys a chance to reap the benefits of some healthy recreation.

Carmel High's baseball squad visited the Robert Louis Stevenson diamond at Pebble Beach for a joust with the RLS nine and came away singing the praises for the well-manicured field at the cozy Pebble Beach school. Friday's game was the first tilt played on the new RLS diamond which must rate as the best playing field in the area. The new layout is smooth as a billiard table with all aspects of the diamond strictly major league. After the Carmel lads had overcome their awe at playing on such a high class diamond, they settled down to finally defeating the RLS nine, 8 to 3. Forrest Cornwall pitched the win for the Padres, getting strong support from relief pitcher Jim Brown. Bud Cunningham and Frank Bucher paced the Carmel hitters, each stroking two solid hits. Third-baseman Eddy was the top hitter for RLS, hitting safely twice in three chances.

At last Monday's meeting of CCAL sportswriters and coaches, Gilroy High was tabbed to win the B-division title and Watsonville was given the nod in the A-division.

In their two games so far this season, the Mustangs from Gilroy have made the pickers look good by dumping Gonzales and Carmel in rather easy fashion. Last week, Gilroy took a little lustre off the Watsonville nine by blanking the Wildcats, 1 to 0, in a practice game. Watsonville figures to ride to the title on the strong right arm of Mark Amrein, a flame throwing righthander, who is just wild enough to keep the hitters hanging loose.

Col. De Camp's Speech

compacts with the future. Of such were the founding fathers of the Republic, givers of the Declaration and the Constitution. The honest man recognizes the debt that he owes for the heritage that such men left to him. In payment, he seeks to preserve and protect it. The irreverent man is content to see his heritage decay or witness its tearing down so long as his convenience is served.

Thus it is seen that the structure of human progress as distinct from "change," must be knit together with bands of Reverence, the soul's acknowledgement of its debt to heritage. Without Reverence, there is no continuity, no permanence, no reward of merit and the ideals by which mankind advances are as chaff before the wind, here today, gone tomorrow.

I would, if I might, apply these eternal truths to Carmel and its future.

Look back with me to the turn of the century. A crossroads at Ocean Avenue and Junipero Streets; possibly some 300 inhabitants, even then dedicated to life in simplicity in a forest by the Sea.

Came Frank Devendorf and Frank Powers to develop a city on cultural values; to set standards in the exercise of civic decency, fair dealing and personal integrity, it being their boast of never having taken back a piece of property they had sold without refunding to the defaulting purchaser, all that he had paid in for it. Giving to Carmel a pattern of business rectitude that can be sensed in the old timers, even to this day.

Came journalist and author Fred Bechdolt to set the pace for honest reporting and dedicated fiction and to further the interests of drama in the community.

Soon to follow: (some few of many) authors, poets, writers of character and fame: George Sterling, Mary Austin, Ray Stannard Baker, Lincoln Steffens, Jesse Lynch Williams, the Irwins, Sinclair Lewis, Jimmie Hopper and week-enders, Jack London, Joaquin Miller; later, Robinson Jeffers, Charles and Kathleen Norris, Harry Leon Wilson, Sam Blythe, Gouverneur Morris and many others of the great and near-great and of national importance.

To enrich its love of theatre and the drama and to give tone to its many and famous dramatic art enterprises, came Herbert Heron to found the world famous Forest Theater, came Garnet Holme of Berkeley's Greek Theatre, Professor Vernon Kellogg, Perry Newberry, Helen Parks, John Hilliard, Henry Dickinson, the Bokes, the Josselyns, the Leidigs and a host of others to instill and nurture love of theatre in a community that yet responds to good drama with discriminating enthusiasm.

Came artists, many of world renown: to name a few: Ferdinand Burgdorff with his early priceless assistance to Forest Theater production as well as national fame with a master's brush. National Academy members included William Ritschel, Paul Dougherty, Armin Hansen and Arthur Hill Gilbert. Others of national and world fame include such celebrities as William Chase, William Keith, George Bellows, Rollo Peters, M. deNeale Morgan, William Silva, the McComas' and a hundred others, not excluding famous photographer Edward Weston.

Came Hazel Watrous and Dene Denny to make Carmel a landmark in the world of music with their organization of our annual Bach Festival, all of them singly and together, to implant the love of beauty and fasten the fame of artistry on our village of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Came Hugh Comstock, the genius with the talent to relate structure to environment, to utilize simple materials, simple design with adaptation to individual use. Later to create the post adobe structure which was to spread far and wide over the country as a product of the creative background of a community with an ideal, an ideal of men and women of individuality, unshackled by the chains of conformity and having no such bizarre architectural aspirations as that of the modernistic for, shall we say, Pebble Beach sake?

However painful, it would be unfair to the past to ignore the contribution of our first incorporated City Council in contrast to the Nebraska-Missouri Chamber of Commerce type council now guiding our destiny into the paths of the commonplace.

On that first Council sat such stalwarts as William Kibbler, retired wholesaler, untiring worker for a cultural Carmel; Eva de Sabla of wealth and culture, world traveler devoted to Carmel uncommercialized, Tom Reardon, the town plumber and Carmel enthusiast, George Beardsley, famed Geologist and patron of the arts, the long to be remembered Peter Taylor, indefatigable over the years in keeping Carmel a village of loveliness and rendering yeoman service in preserving its tradition.

From the galaxy of celebrities above listed and many, many others whom reverent Carmelians still hold in honour and esteem, came the crystallization of the spirit of Carmel in constitutional significance designed to perpetuate its heritage for future generations.

Back in 1929, Carmel's illustrious City Attorney Argyll Campbell placed in legal form the code by which Carmel's greatness in simplicity might be preserved for even such lesser Carmel lovers as you and I, and which the City Council adopted as the zoning rule for Carmel and guide for future Councils in their sworn duty of keeping the trust down through coming generations. I would repeat for you that illustrious compact with the future which this Council this evening, here and now will honour or dishonour as their own sense of reverence dictates. I have reviewed for you a partial record of the greatest heritage ever left by one small town generation for its future generations. Nearly any small town in this country would be proud of having had among its founders even one of the great characters I have listed. This heritage is so transcendently precious that I cannot envision even one of you Councilmen muffing the opportunity to honour yourselves by holding intact the shield of heritage protection in the law left us in the Campbell Zoning Preamble which reads: The City of Carmel-by-the-Sea is hereby determined to be primarily, essentially and predominantly a residential city wherein business and commerce have in the past, are now and are proposed to be in future, subordinated to its residential character; that said determination is made having in mind the history and development of said city, its growth and the causes thereof; and also its geographical and topographical aspects, together with its near proximity to ... (other cities.)

The fate of our Carmel is now in your hands. You may honour the spirit and intent of this, the palladium of our destiny, or at your hands these sacred words may become as sounding brass and tinkling cymbal, to be twisted to suit the convenience of the "money-changers" who are ever at our doors to pull down the pillars of real "progress" in exchange for the tinselled gates of expedient "change." This must not be, there must still be within your hearts that measure of reverence that will demand of you loyalty to Carmel's heritage unparalleled. Carmel's fate, and your own, is in your hands.

As the record shows, the Council was unequal to the test. Our future fate lies now in our hands to be exercised at the polls in the coming April 12 election. Then and there we must choose candidates committed to the preservation of the spirit of Carmel, the upholding of its zoning law without the stultifying jokers now proposed by an irreverent Planning Commission. The Klenke Committee for Carmel is ready to advise.

Students Appointed Election Assistants To City Clerk Rose

They can't vote, but they will help make certain that qualified electors can. They cannot influence the results of the election, but they will be largely responsible for tabulating and arriving at the results. They will be 12 students from Carmel High School, selected from the Social Science Class of Chuck Moody and Peter Lyon, who have been appointed Election Assistants to the City Clerk in an experiment which may very well be unique in election procedures.

The 12 students: Jim Aitken, Kathy Aldrich, Bert Blanks, Peter de Petra, Tom Green, Ellen McKelvey, Ethel Prowell, Bill True, Liz van Loben Sels, Ciji Ware, Nicki Wilson, Jim Woolfenden, and their classmates, already have performed their first function—preparing for mailing the 2810 sample ballots and polling place cards which will go in the mails on 31 March, 1960. The afternoon before election, the Assistants will distribute election equipment to the polling places.

On election day, 12 April, 1960, as soon as the polls are closed, the Assistants will assemble in teams of two, to relay vote-counting information from the precincts to the City Hall where, under supervision, they will tabulate results, post them and man the telephones to answer calls for information. One other task, of no particular consequence in the outcome of things, but which may well be the most appreciated of all, will be the transporting of hot coffee and cookies to the precinct boards while the counting goes on.

By providing necessary and most important help towards the better conduct of the election, the students will have a view of the operation of this primary tool of representative government seldom observed by the participants themselves. Even in the small village and city elections, there is inescapable excitement and a sense of the momentous. There are also profound lessons, as applicable to greater scenes as they are pertinent to local origins. I hope that this early experience for these students will stimulate, encourage and instruct them in such a way as to make intensely valuable to them the electoral privilege when it comes their turn to exercise it.

JV Baseball Depends On George Says Bill Wakefield

(Continued from Page One) start," Wakefield told the Pine Cone. "But we can't have them waiting around not knowing when they can start practice. Maybe later, when George gets his team organized, he'll be able to stop varsity practice at 5:00."

Why can't the JVs practice up on the football field as they have before?

The track team works out at the same time and last year two boys got hit with fly balls, one, twice. "I got konked on the head once myself," said Wakefield, and added that County Counsel Bert Lindsey put the school on notice. No baseball on the football field when other activities are going on there.

Carmel's One Flaw Shocks Australian Otherwise Charmed

Australian reporter Garry Barker was in Carmel Tuesday and Wednesday gathering material and taking photographs for an article on Carmel to be published in the Melbourne Herald, one of a chain of seven newspapers.

Barker is based in New York. He covers events all over the United States. News stories are radio-beamed twice daily from the New York office to the Melbourne Herald.

Following his United States' assignment, Barker will go to Europe, the Far East and the Orient before returning to Australia. He doesn't expect to work permanently in the home office of the Melbourne Herald for over ten years. Another "roving reporter" for the Australian paper is based in Mexico.

"Carmel is the town in the United States in which I would choose to live," he said. "How do you keep it the way it is?" He was referring to undeveloped Carmel beach, tree-lined streets without sidewalks and street lamps, in the residence district, charming shops and business buildings.

Barker was impressed that a former Australian, Keith Evans, was chairman of the county planning commission and a former Carmel mayor, who first came here to study blacksmithing at the Forge in the Forest.

The occupations of city council members and candidates interested him, "quite a variety," he remarked.

"Melbourne," he said, "started to shave after the Olympic Games." "European immigration following World War II made the southeastern Australian city cosmopolitan, many restaurants serving foreign food opened. The Games brought recognition, resulting awareness and development to Melbourne."

Classical music is popular in Australian cities, Garry Barker stated. Record shops fill windows with classical recordings. Thousands attend free twice-weekly Melbourne Symphony orchestra concerts played in the city park. An unusual trumpet-shaped shell projects sound for three-quarters of a mile. The Melbourne Herald finances these concerts. The shell is a gift to the city from a wealthy Australian department store merchant.

Synthetic fibers have depressed the Australian wool industry, Barker commented, but added that Australia is a land of unusual promise notwithstanding.

An automobile enthusiast, Barker wrecked two cars in endurance races around Australia. "Kangaros and gullies," he explained. Kangaroos weigh 600-700 pounds and get in the way of cars racing through wild country. Gullies in flat terrain suddenly appear before drivers who can't stop.

Garry Barker found only one flaw in Carmel, the most beautiful city he has discovered in the United States. "Why aren't utility poles and wires underground?" he queried. "Every picture I tried to take was spoiled by the wires and poles."

"Extremely well cast . . . thoroughly satisfying."

Music On The Peninsula

A concert attraction of great color, interest and musical integrity wound up the current season of the Carmel Music Society last Saturday evening when it presented the Roger Wagner Chorale. The group consisted of 24 men and women with very good voices, accompanied at times by a string orchestra of nine pieces and an occasional woodwind. It was impressive to hear what a really first-rate opening with the reverent Ave Maria by Vittoria, the group disclosed clear diction, and good balance of voices. Vittoria was a 16th century Spaniard who went early to Italy where he spent most of his life. The first group also included his Vere Languores — in which the singers achieved a fine liturgical quality. Their Latin was clear and sonorous. They also sang in this group an Easter madrigal by one of the two Sweelinks, 16th century Flemish composers, father and son. This had a fine soprano lead, probably written for a boy.

Joined by its extremely effective little orchestra the chorus then sang Bach's Easter cantata, Christ Lagen Todesbanden. The director, after saying it was probably unnecessary in the home of the Bach Festival to lecture on Bach, went right ahead and gave his lecture anyway. He was right in the first place. The music opens in a mood of sombre triumph, and was given a very effective legato reading. Particularly fine was the bass chorus Easter Lamb for us was slain. The musical accompaniment was a bit too loud at times, and there were passages where vocal accents were overstressed. There could have been more effective dynamic contrast, but both individual voices and ensemble blending were outstandingly good.

Next came the Mozart piano concerto K. 449, with James MacInnes as the youthful soloist. This immediately followed the intermission. He did a creditable job, though his execution was a little muddy at times and his phrasing perfunctory. The orchestra, though very effective, did not achieve proper dynamic balance with the piano because of its limited size. Naturally the same number of strings would balance far better with the piano of Mozart's time. The last movement was gay and well played and the work was warmly applauded.

Next we heard Handel's little musical drama, Acis and Galatea, with four excellent soloists and the string and woodwind orchestra. The director read us the material we had already seen in the program notes about the story. Lee Green, the soprano lead, as Galatea was excellent. Mr. Carolan, the tenor, as Acis was the least effective soloist. But he went bravely forth to war; only to be squashed by a rock in the hands of the very able bass, Paul Westbrook, as Polypheme. Jean Handzlik, the contralto, as Damon had a most pleasing quality and clear tone. The little orchestra outdid itself. Chorus, soloists and orchestra joined in one of those impossibly happy finales dear to 18th century dramatists.

Four generous encores rewarded the highly enthusiastic applause. These commenced with Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair and ended with O, Dear, What Can the Matter Be. It was interesting to see how very effective a comparatively small group of singers and instrumentalists can be when they are of high quality and thoroughly trained. —E.W.

WAYFARER LENTEN VESPERS
Music for Lenten Vespers at the Church of the Wayfarer on Wednesday evening at 5:15 o'clock will be presented by Connell K. Caruth, F.A.G.O., organist and John W. Farr, baritone.

Organ selections will be Chorale-Prelude, Unto Thee I Cry, Dupre; Were You There, spiritual, arr. Harvey Gaul; The Thrush (Twilight Sketches), Lemare; Spiritual Music, Liszt.

Mr. Farr's solos will be Stranger of Galilee, C.H. Morris, and the following spirituals: I Have A Mother In Heaven, arr. Charles F. Bryan; Sometimes I Feel Like A Motherless Child, arr. H. Montague.

Wilderness Of The West

A Monthly Column
by C. Edward Graves

13. WHO OWNS OUR PUBLIC LANDS?

Conservationists throughout the country are greatly disturbed because the U.S. Forest Service has refused to allow representatives of the National Park Service to enter national forests in the North Cascade Range of the State of Washington for the purpose of making preliminary investigations of the advisability of establishing a national park in that area. Congressmen from the State of Washington have been compelled to introduce bills that would force the Forest Service to give this permission. From a scenic standpoint this is the finest remaining wilderness area in the United States and it is certainly in the interest of the public to have such an investigation made.

This raises the question of who owns our public lands. In my Conservation on the March column of July 5, 1957, I discussed this question. What I said then is very pertinent to the present situation and I am going to quote it word for word.

"Although any good conservationist could answer the question that I have chosen for the title of this column, yet there is a great lack of information on the part of the general public about the ownership and management of our public lands. Because most of them are in the West, this ignorance and lack of interest is particularly noticeable in other parts of the country. It is human nature to care more about what happens to land that one sees every day than areas two or three thousand miles away.

"Most of our public lands are under the management of the National Park Service, the U.S. Forest Service, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Bureau of Land Management. At the recent Wilderness Conference in San Francisco representatives of all these government agencies presented their story. It is not my intention in this column, nor do I have the space, to discuss the various types of public domain. I do, however, want to make one point clear.

"Because Congress has given the administration of these lands into the hands of various government bureaus, that does not give these bureaus a vested interest in them. Title remains with the people of the country who elect Congressmen. If there is enough interest in the welfare of these lands on the part of the voters, their administration and jurisdiction can be changed at will, and during this process the attitude of the administering agencies should be a neutral one. It is their duty to supply objective information but not to attempt to influence decisions in any other way.

"There has been much discussion recently about establishing various new national parks. They will have to be taken from other portions of the public domain. Naturally administering agencies are jealous of their prerogatives and this creates difficult problems of public relations. Fear of these problems should not, however, be a deterrent to action in the interest of the greatest public good. After all, who owns our public lands?"

Candidates' Statements

MICHAEL FRANK

I am forty years old, a veteran of World War II, a resident of Carmel for the last fifteen years, a practicing accountant within this City of Carmel since 1946.

I believe in the necessity of a professional approach to the complex job of city administration. My candidacy is the result of a simple desire to serve the community and to strive for efficient city services at reasonable cost to the taxpayers.

The views of the councilmen that you will help elect April 12, 1960 affect your future.

I believe that the preservation of the beauty of Carmel is the most important issue of the election; more important than the comfort of those who are inconvenienced because they have to walk a block or two from their parked cars to their destination. Not only are 'parking parks' ugly and expensive, but they represent only temporary postponements of a showdown on increasingly more complex levels. The more parking areas are made available, the greater the influx of cars is bound to be; compounding rather than solving the problem.

A city business license fee based on a percentage of receipts of hotels and motels, that can be passed on to tourists and visitors, would make it unnecessary for the City of Carmel to ever consider an increase in property taxes, and would at the same time discourage the development of new hotels.

I am opposed to annexation because I prefer to see Carmel as an island of charm, even if surrounded by tract housing and shopping centers, rather than to be compelled to compromise on vital issues and policy because of absorption, in our midst, of foreign elements.

PATRICIA HALL

I am not sponsored by any organization; nor have I obligated myself to be a one man lobby for any special interest. I have an adequate income and have no axe to grind. Consequently, I am free to speak the truth as I see it.

I am a property owner and deeply interested in the conservation and preservation of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Of the 2810 registered voters, 1664 are women. I believe we should have at least one woman on the city council.

I believe in the free enterprise system: that a man, or woman, has the right, in this wonderful land of ours, to invest their capital whether it is a hundred or a million dollars—with the hope of profit.

I believe the business district and the residential area are dependent upon one another.

No increase in property tax. Councilman Tom May's proposed tax on overnight rentals should be seriously considered. It is either that or parking meters.

Preserve our trees.

A city owned art gallery and museum.

A fund set up for the purchase of unimproved property to be used for parks and green spots.

CORUM JACKSON

Thirty years ago I settled in Carmel because I wanted to live in a small town and no small town in California equaled Carmel.

Urgent offers to move elsewhere at great financial gain never tempted me. Wealth is less than life in Carmel.

Twenty-five years ago I became associated with the Carmel Realty Company and have owned the firm for 15 years.

In addition to business, I have found time to be president of the Monterey County Fair (four years), president of the Monterey Peninsula Board of Realtors (seven years), president of the Carmel Board of Realtors (two years), chairman of the Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross (three years) chairman of the Monterey County Planning Commission Advisory Board (fifteen years), chairman of the Monterey County Republican Central Committee. I organized and was first president of the Carmel Rotary Club.

With no preconceived convictions on city programs, I realize each pressure of increased population, as it arises, needs study in order to preserve Carmel.

I have plenty of time to devote to city council work.

Naturally, I like trees.

HARTLAND LAW

I am a candidate for election to the city council in the sincere belief that I can be of good service to our community.

Over the years we have seen many changes, but lately these have increased nearly to the point of crisis. This has brought problems: tourists, parking, motels, gasoline pumps, and the exploitation of Carmel's simple way of life. Other issues include architectural control, revenue, and annexation.

More recently, however, we see a movement and community interest to face up to our problems. I sincerely wish to be a part of this program and have dedicated my interests toward this end. To be a councilman is for me the most effective way of participation in this and is a means through which I may help to carry on the best traditions of those who love Carmel.

TOM MAY

Incumbent Councilman

A real issue is how far we go with land regulations to control the Carmel character and heritage. Good living conditions are scarce so we must act strongly to preserve the quality of Carmel in face of national trends.

The people rightly expect their council to give first consideration to residents. The next council should act, and talk less, to (1) encourage business which serves inhabitants, including provision of free parking reserved for residents; (2) accept certain measure of tourist business as economic benefit to reduce homeowner taxes, provided it does not dominate local trade and operates in good taste; (3) set land and building regulations with special tools and devices which insure that change will be along the original lines; (4) control daytime crowds which destroy the village environment.

I offer heart, fairness and impartiality. I am not bound by business, social or club affiliations. I have long-time residence since schoolboy days, a detailed knowledge of conditions, council experience since 1957 and own property.

FRANK PUTNAM

The City of Carmel-by-the-Sea is by far the biggest business in Carmel, with an assessed valuation of $13,677,000.00, an annual payroll of $200,000.00, and an annual budget of nearly one-half a million dollars. I earnestly believe that it requires a business man to help run this economic giant if we are to have any hope for retaining what is left of its residential character.

I am a 20 year resident of Carmel, former Chairman of our City Planning Commission, and for the past 14 years a retail merchant on Ocean Avenue.

If I am elected to our City

Council, I will devote one full day each week, away from my business, to the business of city government and to hearing the problems and suggestions of any resident of this community. This time will be in addition to such regular and adjourned meetings and inspection tours as are required of the Council.

I am a firm believer in the preservation of the residential character of our village and in the subordination of business interests to that end.

ROBERT D. STROM

Carmel needs councilmen whose only interest is proper representation of residents and homeowners. While we cannot keep visitors from coming here to enjoy Carmel's beauty, we can prevent exploitation of that beauty by outside money, to attract even more transients.

In the past, citizens have given grass-roots support to maintaining Carmel, but in 1960 they must elect a council willing to be responsible for preserving Carmel's special character or they will have themselves to blame if our town begins to look like any of the nearby beach resorts. New England's villages have fought corrosion for decades; will Carmel give in without a struggle?

If elected, I will be bound by the preamble to our zoning ordinance: "The City of Carmel-by-the-Sea" is "determined to be a residential city wherein business and commerce are subordinated to its residential character." Strict adherence to this ordinance will insure our remaining the much-envied city-in-the-forest.

EBEN WHITTLESEY

Carmel's natural advantages and traditions make for a pleasant way of life. These are threatened by commercial expansion and population pressure. Wishful thinking cannot turn back the clock. The council's lack of courage, foresight and clear purpose has forfeited many opportunities. Long-range planning implemented by law is essential.

As an experienced attorney of long residence, familiar with Carmel before losing my sight, I can help effectuate good planning for the future. Recent council decisions show confusion on legal questions and weaken the zoning law.

If elected, I will make the long-range interest of the residents my first concern, rather than the profit of the speculator and the comfort of the tourist. But the responsible Carmel businessman contributes significantly to our economic welfare and is not a second-class citizen. He knows that high standards in the commercial zone are reflected in the quality of our inevitable tourist visitors.

FRANCIS WHITAKER

Looking back over several campaigns, and 33 years residence in Carmel, most of the issues raised in this campaign seem to stem from the one big problem—Carmel versus the automobile.

Eight years ago, when I had the honor to be street commissioner, I then thought that we could solve our traffic and parking problems by judicious street improvement and simultaneous reforestation. The insatiable automobile, however, demanded more than we could give: street improvement often resulted in the loss of fine trees, street widening speeded up traffic necessitating stop signs. Instead of two cars for each parking space, three appeared.

Freeway construction just beginning on the peninsula gives us an idea of the sacrifices made to satisfy the automobile, with the worst yet to come. No community has been able to retain its character while yielding to the demands of the "insolent chariot." Carmel must face its future with this philosophy—"We will not sacrifice our unique charm and beauty to accommodate the automobile."

Are we driving the automobile, or is it driving us?

SAM COLEMAN

In 1958, from a group of four applicants, I was appointed treasurer of Carmel, by the council, to fill the vacancy in that office.

Prior to coming to Carmel in 1943 I had resided in King City where since 1917 I had been employed by the Monterey County Trust & Savings Bank, except for a year's service in the army during World War I. For 20 of those years I also served, unopposed, as city treasurer. In 1956 I was retired by the above bank (now Wells Fargo Bank-American Trust Company) after serving for 13 years as assistant manager of the Carmel office.

My potential value to Carmel as treasurer is based on my 39 years of banking experience and 22 years as a city treasurer, along with the unlimited time I can give to the office since I am retired and unemployed.

SPEIRS RUSKELL

I came here in the spring of 1935, and have lived here ever since, except for the war years when I served in the European Theater with the U.S. Army. The natural beauty here has always reminded me of my native County Wicklow, which is the Garden of Ireland.

In 1944 I married Shelmerdene Waters and we now have a fine family of three sons and a daughter.

I am a past Adjutant of the American Legion, and past Cubmaster of Pack 107. I am a member of the All Saints' Episcopal Church Brotherhood, and I am active in Little League and P.T.A.

I have full permission from the Government to go ahead and seek this position as City Treasurer, for it is conducted on a nonpartisan basis, and the results will have no effect on my full time position at the Post Office.

I majored in banking and commerce at Rosse's College in Dublin, and have worked at Fort Ord Finance Department computing and auditing enlisted and officers payroll.

I feel that this, plus eleven years experience as a window postal clerk, would enable me to perform the duties of Treasurer with ease and efficiency.

My sincere hope is that the voters of Carmel will have the same confidence in me.

LAWRENCE D. ROSE City Clerk

A lot of tradition is bound up in the Office of City Clerk, some of it constitutional, much of it customary. Where the office is elective, it frequently bears a remarkable image of the people it serves. Where the people have been of an independent mind, original in inspiration and distinctive in their society, the office can reflect these characteristics with a degree of fidelity not altogether possible in other public service. I like to think that my activities have derived their guidance from this inspira-

Jack Eaton

John W. "Jack" Eaton, former Carmel Highlands Volunteer Fire Department chief, died on March 23 in Beaumont. He had been under a physician's care because of a cardiac condition but his death was unexpected.

Mr. Eaton was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He came to Carmel in 1920 following military service in World War I. He and his wife, Helen, who died three years ago, lived behind Bay School at the mouth of San Jose Creek before moving to Carmel Highlands. He served as Highlands fire chief from 1938-1953.

Over the years, Jack Eaton, in addition to his fire department duties, performed many and varied tasks for Highlands residents. He always helped park cars at large parties thus keeping the narrow, twisting, hilly Highlands roads unblocked. Elderly residents relied upon him in many situations beyond their physical strength.

He is survived by two stepdaughters, Mrs. Mark Tibbetts of Pacific Grove and Mrs. Richard Zimmerman of Carmel Highlands, a stepson, Clarence Castro of Morro Bay; two sisters, Mrs. Nora Carrier and Miss Mary Eaton of Milwaukee; and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held yesterday in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Those wishing to honor the memory of Jack Eaton may do so in the form of donations to the Monterey County Heart Association, Box 1329, Monterey.

Pre-Registration For Fall's Kindergarten Pupils Next Week

Pre-registration for next fall's entering kindergarten pupils at Woods and River Schools will be on Wednesday and Thursday from 9:00 o'clock in the morning until 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Kindergarten pupils at Carmelo school may be pre-registered on Tuesday, 9:00-4:00 o'clock.

To be eligible to attend kindergarten during the 1960-61 school year, children must be four years and nine months old on or before September 1, 1960.

Parents must bring a birth certificate or document proving date of birth of any child entering kindergarten.

I have so trusted in the past, I shall so continue in the future.

If you conclude that I have properly valued my office and competently performed its duties, then I solicit your vote. For it is my earnest hope that I may commence another term not by default but with your expressed approval.

Judy Wallace Married

White stock, lilac, tulips and iris banked the altar of All Saints' Episcopal Church on Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Judith Waterman Wallace and Alvah Lawrence Miller Jr. Sprays of the same flowers, backed with redwood boughs, decorated the ends of the center aisle pews. The Reverend David Hill performed the ceremony at 2:00 o'clock.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, DeForest Sweeney. Heirloom Alencon lace, worn by her grandmother and mother at their weddings, was used for the round yoke of her long-sleeved princess-style gown of ivory peau de soie. Inserted panels marked the front and back of the dress with a billowing skirt which swept into a chapel train below a bustle. Her fingertip silk illusion veil fell from a tiny Alencon lace cap and she carried a teardrop bouquet of white butterfly orchids, stephanotis and bouvardia with cascading ribbon streamers. As "something borrowed," she wore pearl earrings which have been worn in her maid of honor's family for three generations and which matched her pearl necklace.

Deborah Kates of San Marino, a former classmate of the bride at Scripps College, was maid of honor. Her pale coral taffeta and silk organza princess gown had a soft cowl neckline and full skirt and her tiny flowered hat, of the same materials as her dress, matched her shoes. Coral gladioli, and blue iris were arranged with redwood sprays in her teardrop bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dennis Gambill (Phyllis Burnette) and Betsy Avery, both Scripps College friends of the bride. They were dressed similarly to the maid of honor.

Richard Steinmetz of New York City, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Bill Wallace, a student at Pomona College, and Frank Wallace, a freshman at Stanford University.

Mrs. Sweeney attended her daughter's marriage in a light grey and tan silk print sheath dress. Her feathered hat matched her dress and shoes. Pink orchids were used for her corsage.

Mrs. Alvah Lawrence Miller Sr. of Scarborough, New York, the groom's mother, wore an ecru lace dress, matching hat and shoes and a peach orchid corsage.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the bride's home on Mesa Road. Arrangements of blossoming pear and peach boughs, gladioli and stock were placed about the rooms. The wedding party received before the fireplace banked with redwood and cypress boughs. White camellias and fern circled the wedding cake on a table covered with an antique lace cloth.

After a honeymoon in Yosemite Valley and down the coast below Big Sur, the bride and groom will live in Warrenton, Virginia, for a year while the groom completes Army service. For travelling the bride changed to an oatmeal wool suit, harmonizing feather hat, brown lizard shoes and bag and a white stephanotis and orchid corsage.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Frank Lisle of Providence, Rhode Island, and her great-aunts, Mrs. Charles Morse and Miss Anna Sawyer of Worcester, Massachusetts, also Mr. and Mrs. William Avery, parents of one of the bridesmaids, from Southern California.

The bride attended Sunset and Santa Catalina Schools before entering Scripps College and last year transferred to Columbia University.

The groom graduated from Avon Old Farms School in Connecticut and was a student at the University of New Hampshire before entering the Army.

MPVS Fabulous Fiesta Wednesday

Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services will hold their Fabulous Fiesta, a benefit for Carmel Foundation, on Wednesday at the Monterey County Fairgrounds from 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon until 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Music, entertainment, boutique shopping, a fashion show will be presented, and a ham dinner and tea served during these hours. Past MPVS presidents will preside at the tea tables. Door prizes will be given in the evening.

Admission tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Stanley Bailey, FR 5-2168; dinner tickets from Mrs. S.Y. Cutler, MA 4-1089.

William Winter At Woman's Club

The Current Crisis will be discussed by William Winter, news analyst, radio and TV personality, on Monday afternoon, 2:00 o'clock, for Carmel Woman's Club members.

Mr. Winter has travelled around the world several times, visited every country in Asia, and interviewed top political, industrial, labor and education leaders in West Germany. During World War II he was war correspondent in the Far East, and a United Nations correspondent during the Korean War.

Tea will be served after the meeting. Pourers will be Mrs. George Meyers, Miss Lillian Harrison, Mrs. J. R. Kennedy and Mrs. Claude Faw. Serving at the cake table will be Mrs. W. G. Thrall and Miss Ianthe Densmore.

Laura Sue Mason Born

Mr. and Mrs. John Mason have a new daughter, Laura Sue, who was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on March 9. She weighed seven pounds, four ounces.

Her brother, Eddie, will be two years old in May. Her father is a clerk at the Carmel post office. Mrs. Daisy Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin, all of Carmel, are Laura Sue's grandparents.

Dr. Goodwin Awarded Grant

Dr. Sidney Mary Goodwin, assistant professor of chemistry at the University of California at Santa Barbara, has received a three-year research grant of $75,000 from the U.S. Public Health Service. She is the daughter of Vice Admiral Hugh H. Goodwin (USN Ret.) and Mrs. Goodwin of Pebble Beach.

The award is for Dr. Goodwin's work in attempting to determine the structure of andromedotoxin, a substance isolated from rhododendron and a potent hypotensive agent. She will go to Australia this summer to attend the International Symposium on Chemistry of Natural Products and present a paper.

Dr. Goodwin graduated from the University of California, did post-graduate doctoral work at Harvard University and was a research chemist at the National Institute of Health, Bethesda, Maryland, before going to UCSB.

Gail Mackenzie to Marry

Gail Margaret Mackenzie will marry Raymond Louis Barnett of Palos Verdes next month. They are both students at the University of Oregon in Eugene where they will make their home.

Gail is the daughter of Mrs. John F. Mackenzie and the late Mr. Mackenzie. She graduated from Carmel High School in 1958 and is now a sophomore at the University of Oregon. She is the sister of Mrs. William Parker of Mill Valley and John D. Mackenzie of St. Helena.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barnett who are living in Djakarta, Indonesia, while Mr. Barnett is associated with a USOM engineering project. A graduate of Stanford University, Ray met Gail at the University of Oregon where he is doing graduate work in clinical psychology.

Exchanges Cuba for Carmel

Robert L. James, an attorney, has opened an office for the general practice of law and counseling on foreign business affairs in the Patterson Building on Sixth Street. In January he left Cuba where he was vice president for legal affairs of the Moa Bay Mining Company which recently completed construction of over-a-million-dollar Cuban nickel mining facility.

Prior to Cuba, Mr. James lived in San Francisco and was attorney for the Bank of America, also legal representative for the western hemisphere for California Exploration Company, subsidiary of Standard Oil of California. During these years he frequently visited Carmel where members of his family have lived for many years.

Robert James was a Navy lieutenant commander during World War II and commanded the fleet net layer U.S.S. Abele. He is a veteran of engagements at Guadalcanal, Iwo Jima and Okinawa. He also served for a number of years as an officer in the U.S. Diplomatic Service with posts in Vienna, Stuttgart and Rome.

He and his wife, Genevieve, have a daughter, Alexandra, who is attending Carmel schools.

Grape-Fare Set For May 1

The Catholic Literature Distribution Guild has made plans for a spring Grape-Fare to be held at Los Laureles Lodge in Carmel Valley. Mrs. Frances B. Johnson and Mrs. Shelburn Robison are co-chairmen in charge of arrangements. The affair will be held on the lawn and around the pool from 4:00-6:00 o'clock. One of the door prizes will be a portrait by Carmel artist Gus Velletri, framed by Anthony Klepich.

Head of the Catholic Literature Distribution Guild is Mrs. Norman Smith of Carmel. Catholic literature is made available through guild members in various locations open to the public throughout the Peninsula. Proceeds of the Grape-Fare will be used for additional magazine subscriptions and other guild expenses. Tickets may be obtained by telephoning Mrs. Johnson at MA 4-4874 or Mrs. Robison at MA 4-3770.

Party for Richard Lofton

Last Wednesday evening Mrs. Paul Clark asked friends of Richard Lofton to celebrate his birthday at her home. Among those who wished him many happy returns of the day were Mrs. Lofton, Mr. and Mrs. F. Robert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Short, Dr. and Mrs. Russell Williams, Ephraim Doner, Mrs. Frank Lloyd, Mrs. Laidlaw Williams, Mr. and Mrs. A. Henley of Los Altos, Glen Minshall, Sam Colburn and Hilary Belloc of Mill Valley.

Malcolm Muncy Wins Promotion

Marine Corporal Malcolm W. Muncy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Muncy, was promoted to his present rank three weeks ago while serving with Marine Aircraft Training Squadron One, Second Marine Aircraft Wing, Cherry Point, North Carolina.

Mitchells Go To Paris

Tomorrow evening Mrs. Marie E. Davies will entertain at a cocktail party at the Beach Club for her son-in-law and daughter, Major and Mrs. C.A. Mitchell, who will leave soon for Paris where Major Mitchell will be stationed for several years.

Lieutenant Lloyd's New Station

Army Second Lieutenant Francis P. "Skipper" Lloyd completed the ten-week military police officer basic course March 16 at the Provost Marshal's General School, Fort Gordon, Georgia. He received instruction in personnel management, law enforcement, traffic control and military leadership.

A 1952 graduate of Carmel High School, Lieutenant Lloyd attended Stanford University, received a bachelor's degree from the University of California, and last June graduated from Boalt Hall Law School, University of California. He is a member of Sigma Nu and Phi Delta Phi fraternities.

After leaving Georgia, Lieutenant Lloyd and his wife, Sue, visited Washington, D.C., and New York, before driving to White Sands Missile Base, New Mexico, where he will be stationed until June. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd.

Neil Orchard Completes Course

Army Private Neil Orchard, son of Mrs. F.A. Roberts, completed the eight-week general supply course two weeks ago at Fort Ord.

He graduated from Monterey Peninsula College before entering the Army in November. His father is John Orchard Jr. of Pacific Grove.

Party For Lacy And Jack

Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. John Faia entertained in honor of Lacy Williams and their oldest son, John Faia III, whose engagement was announced recently. They were assisted in receiving the guests by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meade Williams, Lacy's parents.

Guests were relatives and friends of Lacy and Jack, Dr. and Mrs. Faia and Mr. and Mrs. Williams. The reception was the first time many of them, over a hundred persons in all, had been able to wish Jack and Lacy happiness since they became engaged on St. Valentine's Day when Lacy visited Jack at Oregon State College.

They will be married in August before Jack enters the University of Southern California College of Dentistry.

Leaders Club Fashion Show

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock members of the Leaders Club at Sunset School will give a fashion show, April 1, in the auditorium to be followed by a silver tea in the cafeteria. Funds raised will be used to help finance the 1960 school yearbook, according to Patricia Garvey, Leaders Club vice president, and Holly McCulloch, chairman of publicity.

Models, both boys and girls, will wear clothing from Carmel shops. Special sets have been constructed for the event with help from local firms. Any interested person is invited to attend both events.

City Clerk On UC Plan Panel

City Clerk Larry Rose was in Berkeley yesterday to take part in a panel discussion in the department of city and regional planning, University of California, at the invitation of Francis Violich who teaches a course in planning effectuation through zoning.

Three weeks ago, graduate students taking this course, Don Miller, Dennis Larkin and Monte Hess, came to Carmel to study the city's zoning ordinances for a term project at the recommendation of Mr. Violich. Yesterday they gave a paper summarizing their study of Carmel's zoning ordinances and the manner in which our ordinances effect city planning. Larry Rose took part in the panel discussion related to the term project.

Mattie Hayter

Mrs. Mattie Hayter, 95, died early this morning in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Iva J. McFall of Carmel Valley.

She was born in Springfield, Illinois, on March 16, 1865. In 1950 Mrs. Hayter came here to live. Her husband, John Mitchell Hayter, died in 1930.

Funeral services are tentatively set for tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Paul Mortuary with Dr. K. Filmore Gray, pastor of the Church of the Wayfarer, officiating. Burial will be in Denver, Colorado.

Return From Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson have returned from a honeymoon trip which took them through parts of Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

They were married on March 1 in the Little Chapel of the Stars in Las Vegas. The Reverend Thomas Daly performed the ceremony. Witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dormody of Carmel Valley.

The newlyweds are living on the Carmel Valley Road in the house occupied by Mrs. Johnson before her marriage.

Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnson and a graduate of Carmel High School. His bride is the former Barbara Alexander.

Trimble Visit New UC Resort

Dr. and Mrs. William H. Trimble were away from Carmel from Tuesday through Saturday of last week. They visited Lake Tahoe and Squaw Valley, also explored the new University of California alumni resort a mile and a quarter from Tahoe City. Organized similarly to the Lair of the Golden Bear, the new UC family resort will be open both summer and winter. Buildings are modern in design with individual balconies, the Trimbles report. Facilities for children are excellent. As yet the road into the alumni resort is bad.

While they were in the Sierra the weather was balmy and they missed last week-end's blizzard.

Cal Aggie Picnic Day Chairman

Carol Warner of Carmel Valley is horse show chairman for the 1960 Cal Aggie Picnic Day at the University of California at Davis. She is the daughter of Mrs. R.A. Warner of Lambert's Ranch on the Jamesburg Route and a senior animal husbandry major.

Cal Aggie Picnic Day, an annual event, will be on April 23 this year. This is the forty-seventh year that the students on the Davis campus have held open house for the people of California. All-day events open with a parade built around the theme, Foundations for the Future. There will also be a track meet for 1,000 competitors from California high schools, a fashion show, melodrama, sheep dog trials, aquacade and open houses and teaching and research exhibits in nearly all departments.

Audubon Society At Wheelocks

The music of recorded bird songs greeted 14 members of the Audubon Society when they met on Wednesday of last week in the Carmel home of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Charles D. Wheelock. President Mrs. G.P. Lamont led a discussion on birds and Mrs. Lilian Paca talked about sanderlings. The group will continue to meet once a month in locations yet to be decided.

Hostess at last week's Audubon Society meeting, Mrs. Wheelock, is an artist and a director of La Jolla

P. G. And E. Asks Tree Tour Visits At 11 Locations

The P. G. and E. Company will ask the city council to allow them to install guy wires for utility poles at five locations during Tuesday's tree tour, also to trim city trees to clear wires at six locations.

P. G. and E. representatives will meet with the council at 4:00 o'clock in the council chambers at city hall before the tour to show how the utility company must be granted all the guy wire requests or none.

According to P. G. and E. representatives, the guy wires are needed to support poles to which heavier wires must be strung. Existing wires carry too low voltage for the area. Guy wire locations are Eighth and Monte Verde, Junipero and Eighth, Ocean and Casanova, Ocean and Carmelo, Carmelo and Seventh.

P. G. and E. requests tree trimming to clear wires at Sixth and Santa Fe, Dolores and Fifth, Casanova and Ocean, Carmelo and Ocean, Carmelo and Eighth, Mission and Eighth.

Another item on the tree tour Tuesday is a request from Milton Williams to landscape the parkway on west side of Lincoln below Ocean in front of La Rambla Building. He wants to plant dwarf pines among rocks.

Travelling tree tour councilmen will also look at a rock wall built by Anne Bosworth at the southeast corner of Scenic and Eighth. The wall constitutes a trespass on city property.

They will also consider the request of Norman Winslow, Mission and Vista, to trim deadwood from a city pine and remove a utility cable which is attached to a tree.

Art Center. Her husband, Admiral Wheelock, is director of marine resources and a professor at the University of California at La Jolla. He is also associate director of the Scripps Institute.

The Wheelocks' official home is La Jolla but they spend much of their time in their Carmel house.

Frank Lloyd Home from Hawaii

Lava rock, coral, shells and muumuu were mementoes of Hawaii which Frank Lloyd packed in his baggage when he sailed home on the President Cleveland. He arrived in Carmel on Monday after two months in Honolulu.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Overcoming of fatigue and weariness through entirely spiritual means will be a theme dealt with at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" will include the following from Isaiah (40:28,29):

"Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding. He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength."

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (385:15-18): "Constant toil, deprivations, exposures, and all untoward conditions, if without sin, can be experienced without suffering. Whatever it is your duty to do, you can do without harm to yourself."

J. C. Election To Be Held June 7 Or 14

(Continued from Page One) should not bargain any further with Monterey. They are in an unfortunate position, and we must not capitalize on it. Legally, we cannot do otherwise than buy this pig. Let's remember that there is such a thing as good faith."

Dr. Snyder's remarks were greeted with applause from the audience.

Trustee George Yates reviewed the events leading up to last night's decision:

"Last October we passed a resolution of intention to hold this election, provided that Monterey High School district established a price and made provisions for a 3-2-2 board of trustees." (Three from Monterey, two from Carmel, and two from Pacific Grove). "This was passed after considerable thought. We put in the stipulation about the trustee areas because we felt it fair that we be represented, in view of the several hundred thousand dollars we would pay for the facilities. Until Monday, this board was not advised that the Monterey board was not in accord with these trustee areas. This is an important consideration, and the voters should keep it in mind. Our board might well go on record to the effect that it intends to see that such trustee areas are established."

Several members of the audience spoke up to commend the board and its decision to ask for annexation. Among them were August Nieto, Dr. Ernest J. Jaqua, and Newell Davies.

The one dissenting voice from the visitors' gallery was that of Gunnar Norberg.

"There is no urgent need to call an election," city councilman Norberg said. "You have not yet received the survey report from Nuttall." (Drayton B. Nuttall, chief of the State Bureau of School District Organization, who has promised trustees a study of the comparative advantages of joining Hartnell district, joining the new junior college district, and doing nothing at all.) "The outcome of the election might be determined by some of this data which is not yet in."

"We have been promised the Nuttall report by at least a month before the election," Chairman Ted Fehring said. He added that time must be allowed for the other legal steps which are to be taken before annexation can be completed.

Norberg added that Monterey trustees were "welshing" on the question of trustee areas for the new college district.

"You must consider the effect on the tax rate," Norberg went on. "Think of the taxpayers who are going to have to pay the bill. Three years ago we found out that this district was fully able to have its own junior college. We don't have to act now, or even in the near future, because we're in the saddle."

Board chairman Fehring said that Carmel does not have the assessed valuation necessary for its own college district.

The governing board of the new junior college district has passed resolutions of intention promising to accept Carmel's petition to annex and to "place before the County Committee the request to study the establishment of trustee areas."

"All the resolutions of intention in the world wouldn't affect things," Deputy County Counsel Herbert L. Lindsley, who was on hand last night, told the board. "Ultimately it will all depend on the County Committee."

"As to the cost: when the majority of both boards (Monterey High School district and the new junior college district) is the same, the price of the present facilities must be set by a board of appraisers. When the majority is differ-

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stanley, who were married February 25, have returned from a honeymoon in Hawaii. Above they are seen on the terrace of Halekulani Hotel, Honolulu. They also visited the Island of Maui where they stayed at Lahaina Bay.

They are occupying Mrs. Stanley's home in the Monterey Peninsula Country Club area until they can find a house in Carmel.

School District To Purchase Another Carmel Valley Site

At last night's special school board meeting, the trustees authorized the site committee to take an option on 12 acres up Carmel Valley.

The property, owned by A. G. Metz, is located just beyond the intersection of Valle Vista with the Valley road, east of the village. An elementary school of 20 classrooms, recommended by the University of California survey committee, will eventually be built, but no construction is planned for three years.

Asking price, $3,000 an acre, is still under negotiation. If the site committee, Dr. Grant Fletcher, Wayne Greenfield and Stuart Mitchell, can reach a satisfactory price agreement with the owner, and the site receives the approval of the county planning commission, the state department of education, and the civil aeronautics authority (there is an airfield near by) the school board will include cost of site in the bond package they will ask the citizens to approve this fall.

ent, the boards may negotiate between themselves.

"There isn't any way to get a guarantee," he said.

The audience broke out in applause when the annexation petition was adopted.

Mary Beth Berry Picked Up In S. F. On Check Charge

On the complaint of Carmel police, Mary Beth Berry, 21, was apprehended by San Francisco police this week. The Carmel warrant for her arrest asked that she be held to answer to the charge of forgery. She will be returned to Monterey County by the Sheriff's office and a trial date set.

Week before last Mary Beth Berry allegedly forged checks using the name of Mrs. C. A. Cuva, wife of a Monterey dentist. Carmel police received a complaint from Joyce's Jewelry Shop on Ocean Avenue that a check, allegedly written by Mary Beth Berry using Mrs. Cuva's name, was returned marked "forged" by the Bank of America, Monterey branch.

Police checked with the bank and found "many" checks, amounting to approximately $700, had been similarly passed in local shops. They traced her whereabouts to San Francisco and asked San Francisco police to take her into custody.

(Continued from Page One) istrative remedy." The planning commission hasn't approved plans for the parking garage that is to house the controversial service station. When the planning commission does approve the plans and instructs the building inspector to issue a building permit, the citizens may appeal to the city council. If the council again supports the planning commission, "administrative remedy will be exhausted" and the citizens may bring the issue back into court.

Since State Senator Fred Farr (D-Carmel) was in Washington, D.C., as a delegate to the White House Conference on Children and Youth, Monday, his wife filed his candidacy papers for his re-election with county clerk Emmet McMenamin.

Senator Farr is running for his second term in the State Senate. A Democrat, he has many Republican supporters because of his efforts in behalf of billboard control legislation and because he can be depended upon to support conservation measures.

In a special meeting Friday afternoon, the city council decided to purchase three lots adjoining city property on Junipero street for an ultimate price of $70,000. One lot, adjacent to the youth center, will be purchased immediately for $20,834. The others will be bought at the end of five years for $41,000. In the interim the city will pay the owner a rental of $125 per month for the remaining lots. The agreement does not allow purchase before the expiration of the five year period. The lots are to be used for a corporation yard.

Money for immediate purchase of the first lot, $20,834, is to come out of the city reserve fund, less $9000 in the budget for land purchase. The reserve is to be paid back and money set aside for the $41,000 final purchase out of current revenue of the next five years, a concern of the next city council. This one goes out of office this month.

Kilted, sporrans, white-gaitered, ribboned-capped Cameron Highlander bagpipers swinging up Ocean Avenue Saturday afternoon attracted lots of tourist and citizen attention.

"Carmel will always have its characters," contentedly said Jennifer Baylis of Menlo Park, home in Carmel for the week end.

The pipers were here to play at the Monterey Peninsula Rugby Tournament.
